Mark Plessius, Managing Partner

"The highly regulated market of medical devices is at the beginning of even higher quality standards. We, as QTC Recruitment, contribute to this by providing the best quality to leading and innovative companies in this sector."

Jord Teeuwen, Managing Partner

"People who are working in biotechnology do things of which others say: it is not possible. This makes it real fun to be active in this market. There are several success stories, and I am proud that QTC Recruitment contributed to these stories by finding the right specialists."

Hans Dijkstra, Managing Partner

"Nowadays, the food industry is rapidly changing because of higher needs for more nutritious food in regions with less available food. One of the companies we work for has developed a more nutritional rice grain. I'm proud that we, as QTC Recruitment, support these companies inventing life improving products and make these companies more successful by finding the right specialists to employ."
