About

QTC Recruitment and Medical Devices

Europe's medical devices industry is one of QTC Recruitment's main focuses, resulting in an extended network of specialists and a dominant position within a sector that is vital to all the life sciences. We offer tailor-made services for several leading, fast-growing clients listed in the top 30 of global medical devices businesses, but also for smaller innovative organisations in the medical devices industry. In addition, we find relevant and matching candidates for demanding positions. QTC Recruitment is able to guarantee this, because of our placement model with a 100% success rate.
